Peter's attempt

Dear Emma

Just a note of sincere thanks for your lovely letter and overall attention to detail relating to "Truvo Gets Mugged" Competition. Aimee really enjoyed herself and of course she was the centre of attention for a change. We will always be grateful to you and your colleagues for the warm welcome and enthusiasm you carry with you. Peter continues to make great progress and he has returned to some sort of normality even though "Normal" will never be the same again. I have learned one thing in particular during the past six months and that is "Seize the day", you will never get it back. Please convey our appreciation to everyone involved & we wish you every success in your future endeavours and career. With every good wish

Best Wishes

Aimee Willie, Aimee & Peter McMahon
